

ELECTRICAL TESTING & TAGGING COURSE

SAFETY TESTING & INSPECTING FOR ELECTRICAL EQUIPMENT

This training course has been designed to provide participants with the skills, knowledge and certification to perform inspections and tests using approved Portable Appliance Testing (PAT) equipment.

Tag Time has provided Testing & Inspecting Services, for many years, and can provide Nationally Accredited Training on Electrical Safety Testing, which allows you the opportunity to have your own staff trained to carry out your Electrical Safety testing. The OH&S Regulation (Division 8- Electricity) passed in 2001, gave industry 2 years to implement Electrical Safety in the work place, which effectively means all electrical equipment in any workplace, should have been Tested and listed onto a record log, by September, 2003.

This course has been developed in accordance with the requirements and standards as laid down in the Code of practice (NSW Construction & Civil Engineering) and Australian Standards AS3760.

As the mandatory implementation of Electrical Safety in the Workplace is an absolute necessity, all sectors of the industry, should be consciously arranging for Electrical Safety procedures to be introduced, for the safety of Management & Staff and customers.

What is to be Inspected & Tested within your workplace:

A "simple rule of thumb" is any electrical equipment, which can be plugged into a power point, must be tested. For example;

- All work shop tools & Leads, including tools & leads allocated to service vehicles.
- All office equipment: computers, Photo Copiers, Fax. Phone chargers etc.
- All kitchen equipment: Fridge, Jug, Sandwich Maker, Microwave, Heaters, Vac. Cleaners.
- TV / Video, Radio, Fans, Water Coolers etc.

A range of portable testing appliances will be available to order during training.
